

KINATEDER MASONRY HONORED ON 'TOP TEN SMALL BUSINESSES' LIST

Waukesha, Wis. (June 11, 2009) – With customer-focused commitment to quality considered a key strength, Kinateder Masonry was honored today as one of the Top Ten Small Businesses of the Year by the Waukesha County Chamber of Commerce. A ceremony for the honorees was held in Waukesha.

Consistently recognized as one of the top mason contractors in the US, Kinateder Masonry President Fred Kinateder, Sr. expressed gratitude for the Top Ten Small Businesses award.

“Our entire company takes great pride in our accomplishments, and we do our best to play an industry leadership role on each and every project we undertake,” Kinateder said. “We appreciate the support shown by our business colleagues.”

Major projects that have benefitted from the involvement of Kinateder Masonry in southeastern Wisconsin in recent years include the Harley-Davidson Museum, Miller Park, the Midwest Airlines Center, and the Milwaukee Theatre, to name a few.

“I’ll be the first to admit that when we started Kinateder Masonry back in 1990, we didn’t have a 20-year game plan,” Kinateder noted. “But all along, we have stuck to a simple but effective way of doing business: a strong work ethic is always our highest priority.”

For more than 16 years, Kinateder Masonry has been ranked in Engineering News-Record Magazine's annual listing of the Top 25 Mason Contractors in the country. In 2008, Kinateder Masonry was recognized with the Subcontractor of the Year Award by Wisconsin Builder/The Daily Reporter and accepted a first-place AGC Willis Construction Safety Excellence Award.

Also in 2008, Kinateder Masonry expanded by opening an office in Kansas City, MO, leading to a number of new business and employment opportunities in the new market.
